

CRUCIAL BREAK IN COAL STRIKE.

Miners Attempt to Induce Steammakers Who Resumed Work to Quit.

NICHOLS ON THE SCENE.

District President, After Conference with Mitchell, Hurries to Nanticoke—Other Union Leaders Expected There.

REV. FATHER CURRAN OFFERS MEANS TO SETTLE COAL STRIKE.

WILKESBARRE, June 25.—Father Curran, of the Holy Saviour Church, to-day makes this suggestion for the settlement of the coal strike:

In view of the widespread entanglements of capital and labor, as well as the threatened disturbance of peace incident to the far-reaching agitation, I make the following proposition, namely: Let the various Boards of Trade throughout the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania appoint a committee to visit upon the coal operators and officers of the miners' union, with this purpose in view: That the companies promise to concede something tangible to the miners, providing they go back to work at once, and that such tangible concessions be realized in the first two weeks' pay the workmen shall draw after they go back.

This proposition is made solely by myself, without the slightest intimation from a second party.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 25.—The coal strikers to-day are making every effort to induce the engineers, firemen and pumpmen who went to work yesterday at Nanticoke to return to the ranks of the strikers. This is the first break of consequence since the strike began.

District President Nichols, after a night conference with President Mitchell, left for Nanticoke early to-day. Other union officials were ordered to Nanticoke and are expected to arrive during the day.

The company officials say none of the men will quit work unless they are intimidated.

The break is considered crucial. The restriction order in District No. 2 of the soft coal workers of Western Pennsylvania has been obeyed. President Mitchell, to-day received word that also the 20,000 men remained away from work this morning.

"This is not a strike," explained President Mitchell, "but a suspension to restrict the output of soft coal, which is now being sent to the anthracite market. The men at work there are coke ovens will remain idle on Wednesday and Saturday, and where there are none, on Fridays and Saturdays."

LIVED SIX YEARS DISGUISED AS MAN.

Herman G. Wood's Well-Guarded Secret Was Not Discovered Until She Married a Widow in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—A person named Herman G. Wood was married on June 17 to Mrs. Ernestine L. Raue, a widow owning a grocery store. To-day she reported to the police that she had discovered her so-called husband to be a woman.

On being visited by the police "Wood" reluctantly admitted the accusation. Six years ago, she left her home in North Carolina and came to Baltimore, donning male garb and living ever since as a man. During her residence here the masquerading young woman has mingled freely with men, drinking and smoking, without her sex ever having been suspected. She is now under arrest.

AGED EDITOR DEAD.

Col. Daniel H. Neiman Passes Away at Easton, Pa.

EASTON, Pa., June 25.—Col. Daniel H. Neiman, one of the oldest newspaper men in Pennsylvania, died suddenly last night at his home in this city. He was nearly eighty years old.

During the civil war Mr. Neiman edited the Easton Sentinel, and since then had been connected with different newspapers.

DYERS VOTE TO CONTINUE STRIKE!

Meeting Rejects Mill-Owners' Offer—Definite Action To-Morrow—Police Guard Reduced.

PATERSON, June 25.—At a meeting of the striking dyers here to-day it was resolved, unanimously, to continue the strike and to bring about, if possible, a sympathetic general strike of all the silk workers.

The meeting was largely attended and enthusiastic. When it opened, reports were read of the committees that were named to confer with the mill-owners. The reports were that the strikers would be taken back if they agreed to accept the wage scale of 1894. In not a single case was there any disposition to promise an increase in wages.

Immediately after the reports were read, a motion was made to reject the proposition of the employers and that the strike be continued. This motion was carried unanimously and intense cheering. Another motion was then put and adopted, maintaining the wage-scale demanded at the beginning of the strike.

The next motion to be carried unanimously called on all silk workers to join in a general sympathetic strike. Chairman McGrath delivered an address admonishing the men to conduct their strike peacefully.

Practically every silk mill in Jersey City, West Hoboken, Union Hill and West New York opened up to-day. No meeting of the delegates of the ribbon weavers' organization at which the dyers' helpers strike will be discussed, and the four members of the board who will represent the ribbon weavers at a conference to be held to-morrow night will receive full instructions how to cast their votes.

Meetings will be held to-night and to-morrow night that are expected to do much toward shaping the future action of the silk workers. To-night there will be a meeting of the delegates of the ribbon weavers' organization at which the dyers' helpers strike will be discussed, and the four members of the board who will represent the ribbon weavers at a conference to be held to-morrow night will receive full instructions how to cast their votes.

STRIKERS APPEAL TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FOR 'RIGHT.'

PATERSON, June 25.—Following is the text of a circular adopted in the 1,152 BABIES IN TWO WEEKS.

The Evening World's Free Physicians' Find Many Suffering Little Ones.

The chief of staff of physicians attached to The Evening World Sick Babies' Fund makes the following report of work done by his doctors during the week ending June 21:

Houses visited 469
Families visited 4,059
Sick babies treated 633

This makes a total of 806 houses and 9,385 families visited, and 1,152 sick babies treated during the first fortnight of the present season.

While this report shows the grand work done by the fund, it also proves how great are the sufferings of the poor little folk, and the need for money to increase the fund's field of life-saving.

The first big benefit for the fund will be given on July 15 by Fred Erb at Erb's Casino, North Beach. A big programme is in preparation. Many artists are volunteering for the occasion. Mr. Erb gives the entire receipts of the day to the Sick Babies' Fund.

All contributions to the Evening World's Sick Babies' Fund should be addressed to the Cashier of The World, Pulitzer Building, New York City.

MEN POSTED AS 'UNFAIR.'

SUKRANT, Pa., June 25.—The names of sixty-four mine workers and four milkmen who sold to them appear on a circular posted in the Kingston region, headed "Unfair List. U. M. W. of A. with the names of five men comprising a committee at the bottom. The list of names was intended to induce each of the men on the list to bring damage and criminal suits against each of the committee.

COURT UPHOLDS ANTI-SMOKE LAW

Judge Joseph Decides that Board of Health Has Power to Suppress Nuisance.

RULES AGAINST EBLINGS.

Holds that Brewing Company Is Liable to Pay Penalty—Says Smoke Is Objectionable and Offensive.

Judge Herman Joseph, sitting in the Seventh District Municipal Court, to-day handed down a decision in the case of the Department of Health against the Ebling Brewing Company for a violation of section 131 of the Sanitary Code.

The Health Department charged that the defendant company permitted to be discharged from its premises large volumes of black smoke, and that it failed to have its furnaces so constructed as to consume or burn the same. The company admitted the violation, but challenged the validity of the ordinance, claiming that it exceeds the legislative power and is unconstitutional.

Judge Joseph finds that the Department of Health has power to make such rules and regulations for the control and suppression of the smoke nuisance as it deems proper, "and the defendant not having justified or excused its acts, but attacked the power of the law-making body to make the regulations, is at fault; and must pay the penalty sued for."

In his decision Judge Joseph says it is well settled that the Legislature may delegate the power of passing ordinances for the preservation of health, and that the municipality so long as the ordinances are within the delegated powers, and cities local decisions in support of this contention.

"A citizen has not absolute and unlimited rights over his property," the judge continues, "but holds his rights subject to control and regulation for the benefit of the masses." And quoting from a decision in an action against the Long Island Railroad, the decision says: "Whatever is injurious to human life or detrimental to health and whatever renders the air or human food or drink impure is a nuisance."

The decision then goes on to state that it is well recognized that a quantity of smoke discharged into the air, and most objectionable and offensive, and that ordinances aimed at this evil have been frequently upheld. "and that there can be no question that it is the subject of municipal control and regulation."

The verdict of Judge Joseph is then given for the Department of Health as against the Ebling Company.

SEVEN HURT IN CAR CRASH.

Second Avenue Trolley Hurled a Crosstown Horse-Car Before It at an Early Hour.

When a northbound Second avenue trolley car suddenly crashed into one of the little horse cars that traverse Seventeenth street early to-day the seven passengers of the horse car were violently flung over and made to turn somersaults as the car was hurled on its side. There was no chance to even give thought of how to escape. Several persons in the trolley car were also injured. Those hurt in the horse car were: Lena Hirschfeld, No. 543 East Thirtieth street, bruised about head and body; taken to Lying-in Hospital.

William Kollmer, No. 243 South Fifth street, Brooklyn, bruised shoulder, wrist sprained.

Woman, bruised about head and body; attended and went home.

Four men who refused their names, slightly bruised.

Albert Pingello, the motorman of the electric car, was sending his car north at a high rate of speed and the rails were slippery from the shower. Behind him were twenty passengers, eight of whom were women.

Horse-car No. 59 was going east. It was a closed car and the seven passengers were pretty well scattered through it. The motorman saw the horse-car coming and changed his going, putting on the brakes at the same time.

Driver James Verner of the horse car also tried to stop his car, which was going at a lively pace. He did not succeed in bringing his horse to a halt until the car was in the middle of the Second avenue tracks.

Then came the crash, and the horse-car was turned over like a toy and wrecked. Three women in the trolley car and the motorman and driver quickly helped out the injured passengers, and they were attended at the Lying-in Hospital, which is at that corner. Most of the injured passengers were able to go to their homes, but several were taken to Bellevue.

Old Charge Against One.

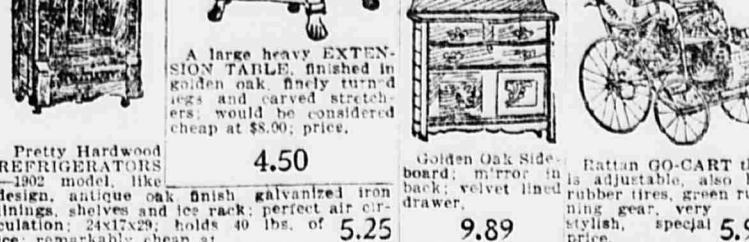

Another man on the jury was indicted Dec. 30, 1898, for grand larceny in the first degree. This indictment was dismissed by Judge Newburger in 1897.
